Chuck Rainey

in concert

As the most recorded bass player in the history of recorded music, Chuck Rainey is a legend in R&B, Pop, and Fusion circles. His bass playing on successful television shows, motion pictures, and numerous famous recordings illustrate his well-known and legendary style, feel, and concept for the instrument and its role in organized music. His unique bass lines accent numerous commercials and are an integral part of today's music across many music viewing and listening fronts. He has played on 17 platinum or gold records and with five artists who are in The Rock and Roll Hall Of Fame. Just a few notable albums credits include: Aretha Franklin, King Curtis, Louis Armstrong, Harry Bellefonte, The Supremes, Patti Labelle, Quincy Jones, and Steely Dan. He has recorded three solo albums and is just finishing up a soon-to-be released fourth album, part of which he will be debuting here at Stanford.
